
John Knox invites you
to a seminar to help families, caregivers, and friends
who are affected by memory loss.

Have you asked yourself . . .

What is the difference between Alzheimer's and other types of dementia?

Can I manage to age at home?
What are my other options?

How do I cope as a caregiver?

How do I talk with friends who suffer from Alzheimer's?

How to register?

(no charge)

SPEAKERS

Anna Cain has been named the Executive Director at The Crossings at Five Forks. She is a licensed assisted living administrator with over 15 years of health care experience. Anna believes in programs that put you in control of your future and will speak about choices and resources available in our community.

Karen Nichols has spent over 20 years dedicated to serving seniors. Presently she serves as Executive Director at the Foothills Presbyterian Community in Easley, where she knows issues that residents and their families face. She will be describing the types of dementia.

Jamie A. Guay is the Program Director with Greenville's Alzheimer's Association and will speak about the disease. She found her passion when working for the local Alzheimer's Association, SC Chapter, in June 2013, and continues to educate the community, long-term care facilities and home care agencies on the various concerns related to this disease. Most importantly, she will describe the support programs she provides for the families affected by Alzheimer's disease.

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Philippians 4:13
