Alternatively, you may call Bill Mathews at 864-787-2305 to volunteer.

Chin Student Named to Summer College Internship

The ministry partnership continues to grow between the Greenville Chin Presbyterian Church (GCPC) and John Knox. We are excited that Lal Tan, a very active member of the Chin congregation, has been named as an intern in the Summer College Pilot Project, "Speak Lord, Your Servant is Listening." Lal is a Biology major at Presbyterian College and very active in the FCA Worship Band, Celtic Cross and an International Buddy. She is also involved as a GCPC Youth Committee Member, Sunday School Teacher and Youth Choir member. Lal has enjoyed youth missions trips and conferences in partnership with GCPC and JKPC!

From a very young age, Lal has served as a translator for members of the Chin congregation with doctors, refugee workers, and others. There have been many instances where she had to stay overnight at the hospital translating for family members who were in labor and in the ER. She is now a certified translator for Greenville Hospital Systems. From these experiences, Lal has a dream of going into the medical field. Therefore her internship will focus on the ministry of medicine.

Joseph Gaston is the Director of this summer program based on the Circles of Trust Discernment Model used in the Doctor of Ministry Project "Connecting Hearts."
